

18th Annual meeting of the European Venous Forum, 29 June – 1 July 2017, Porto, Portugal

Abstract Submission:

Abstracts should be submitted by Friday 10 February 2017 and typed in English. Selection will be based on originality and quality of work. All abstracts will be assessed, blind, by the Scientific Committee. Authors will be notified on the committee's decision by late March 2017.

Each abstract should include:

- Title in CAPITAL LETTERS
- Authors names: presenter's names first (Surname, initial)
- Institution, City and Country
- Type abstract in English. Maximum of 425 words (excluding title, authors' names and institution). Abstracts exceeding 425 words will be rejected.
- Indicate if you wish the abstract to be considered for the EVF Prize.

The EVF prize will be awarded to the three best abstracts according to originality and quality. Abstracts accepted for presentation will be published in Phlebology.

To be eligible for the EVF Prize the presenter should:

- Be a Trainee/Junior Doctor
- Under 40 years of age
- Confirm that the material has not been presented or published elsewhere.

The Prizes will be awarded during the Congress Dinner.

Please indicate on the Abstract Submission Form if you wish your presentation to be considered for the EVF Prize.

EVF Prize:

The winners of 1st and 2nd place are awarded a Travelling Grant (to a maximum of £1,500) to attend the annual meeting of the American Venous Forum. The abstracts of the three winning papers will be submitted to the Scientific Committee of the American College of Phlebology (ACP). They will select one paper and provide a grant to attend the next ACP meeting to present the paper.

The 3 winning abstracts are also submitted to the Japanese Society of Phlebology (JSP) who will accept two to be presented at the next meeting of the JSP. The JSP will award a grant up to £2,000 to cover the travel, registration and accommodation expenses in attending the meeting.

All Abstracts are to be submitted online – click here

IMPORTANT: It is a condition of submission that should your abstract be accepted for presentation that the presenting author will register for the congress at least 4 weeks prior to the date of the meeting. Failure to register will mean removal of your abstract from the programme.
