Welcome Message

Invitation to EVF in Athens 2024

The European Venous Forum, in collaboration with the Hellenic Phlebological Society is pleased to announce the forthcoming annual meeting of the European Venous Forum meeting in Athens, Greece from 27-29 June 2024. This is a change from the originally planned meeting in Versailles, which is postponed to 2026.

The venue for the meeting is the Royal Olympic Hotel, which is situated at the heart of the city of Athens and only a few minutes away from the most historic and spectacular areas of the city such as the Athens Museum, Monastiraki market and Constitution "Syntagma "square. For those of you who may remember, this is the same venue as the very successful 2018 EVF meeting.

The didactic sessions will cover numerous topics such as new developments in the management of VTE, update on practical phlebology and CVD. There will be the joint session with the EVF and the American Venous Forum (AVF). This year we are pleased to announce that there will also be a joint session with the European Society of Vascular Surgery (ESVS). On Saturday afternoon, the Balkan Venous Forum will hold their meeting.

The 2024 EVF Invited Lecturer is the renowned thrombosis expert Professor Alex C Spyropoulos, Professor of Medicine at Hofstra University, New York, USA.

The target audience is mostly Vascular Surgeons and Residents but also General Surgeons, Angiology Specialists, Phlebologists, Interventional Radiologists, Vascular Medicine Specialists, Dermatologists, Nurses, Technicians, and all others interested in the management of venous disease.

On behalf of the European Venous Forum and the president of the Meeting, Professor Stavros Kakkos, we warmly invite you to join this high-level venous meeting.
